

Influenza A & Influenza B Antigen Rapid Test Kit (colloidal gold method)

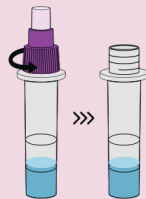

The Influenza A & Influenza B Antigen Rapid Test Kit (Colloidal Gold Method) is a lateral flow Immunology for qualitative detection of antigen that can specifically identify influenza A virus nucleoprotein and influenza B virus nucleoprotein to avoid detection of influenza virus nucleoprotein by chromatography. The operation steps are simple and test results are interpreted visually at 15-20 minutes based on the presence or absence of visually colored lines. The diagnosis can be achieved within 1-7 days after infection, which is of great significance for prognosis and targeted treatment.

Test Procedure

Unscrew the big lid of the sample extraction tube

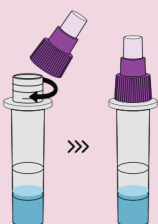

Insert the sampled swab into the solution in the sample extraction tube

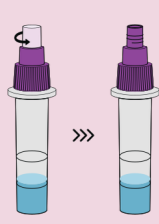

Squeeze the villi part of the swab 5 times, then remove and discard the swab

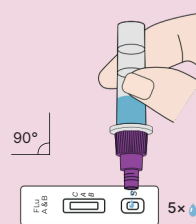

Cover the dropper lid on the sample extraction tube after sampling

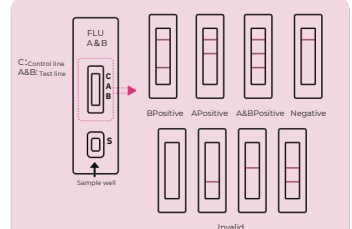

Unscrew the little lid of the sample extraction tube

Add 5 drops (approximately 100 μ L) of the treated sample into the sample well of the test card

The detection results of the kit are interpreted as above
